Lineage of the Holy Prophet

According to the Holy Quran and Bible Hazrat Adam was the first human being whom Allah created from dust. The Quran and the Bible are also agreed on the point that Eve, the first woman and wife of Adam, was brought from Adam.

First. Both Adam and Eve, were put in heaven, but afterwards they were both sent down to the earth because Allah had created Adam as vicegerent on the earth. As a result of their marital relation Allah spread countless men and women on the earth. Allah explained this fact in the first verse of Surah An Nisa (The Women) in the following words:

"And from both. He (Allah) spread abroad a multitude of men and women."

From time to time Allah sent His Messengers for human guidance. Among the Prophets God's Messenger Hazrat Ibraheem, who is mentioned as Abraham or Abram in the Bible, belongs to the 18th generation of Hazrat Adam. He was born Ca 2160 B.C. in the city of Ur situated in the country of Babylonia, now known as Iraq. Hazrat Ibraheem had three wives, named Hajirah, Sarah and Keturah. He had three sons from them named Ismael (Ishmael), Ishaq (Isaac), Midyan (Midian) respectively. Ishaq had a son named Yaqoob (Jacob), who is known as Israel in the History of Prophets. The word Israel is translated as Abdullah in Arabic which means the devotee of God. All Israelite prophets are from the posterity of Yaqoob (Jacob). Prophet Jesus was the last Israelite Prophet. Five hundred and seventy years after the advent of Prophet Jesus Allah sent Hazrat Muhammad (Peace be upon him) to mankind as His last Prophet but he belongs to the Ishmaelites instead of Israelites. The Jews became jealous of Hazrat Muhammad because of his genealogical relation to Ismail (Ishmael).

- When Makkans noticed that Holy Prophet was not abstaining from Islam, then they offered huge fortune to Prophet with the prettiest lady of Makkah in the Nikkah of Prophet on the condition of abandoning Islam.

Dr. Zafar Mahmood Siddiqui

- Prophet replied to Abu Talib "If they place sun on my right hand and moon on my left hand and ask me to stop preaching Islam, I will never accept what they say. I shall persist in it Allah enables me to discharge it fully or I perish the attempt."

- Makkans thought that Prophet should have been rich and influential person not a poor orphan and shepherd. As Quran narrated their rotten notions.
- "Also they say why is not the Quran sent down to some leading men or either of two chiefs" (43:31)
- Arabs were proud of their tribal chiefs. They were not willing to accept supremacy of Muhammad to them.

Migration to Abyssinia

- Firstly, in the month of Rabi' a group of eleven men and four women reached there including Usman Bin Affan, his wife Ruqayya besides, Saad Bin Abi Waqqas, Zubair Bin Ayyam, Abdur Rahman Bin Auf, Musab Bin Umair, Abdullah Bin Masood, Abu Salamah, Umme Salamah, Hazrat Hatib Bin Ketro and few more.
- Next year second group comprising seventy nine men and seven women including Jaffar Bin Abu Talib, Umm e Habiba Binte Abu Sufiyan, Ubaidullah Bin Jahsh and Ammar Bin Yasir reached Abyssinia.
- Najashi was hospitable and allowed them to stay in Abyssinia.
- Makkans got furious to know about that.
- They decided to bring them back. So, they sent delegation led by Amr Bin Aas and Abdillah Bin Rabiah with expensive presents to convince Najashi for their extradition.
- Najashi after hearing complaints from Makkans asked questions about Prophet's character and disposition.
- Pagans despite arch enemy praised Prophet much.
- Then Najashi asked in his court to defend allegations and recite verses revealed to the Holy Prophet.
- Hazrat Jaffar Bin Abu Talib introduced Islamic teachings and recited verses of Surah Maryam.

- A sense of nation prevailed there regardless of creed and tribal names.
- The role of Holy Prophet became multifarious. In Makkah he was preacher only. But, in Madinah he became military commander, judge, statesman and Head of the State.
- Amongst numerous blessings, migration brought brotherhood and love for Mohajirin and Ansars.
- This migration improved the financial stature of Mohajirin and Ansars as Mohajirin taught Ansars trading and Ansars taught them cultivation.
- Mohajirin proved that will of Allah is more powerful than their family as they left them at Makkah. It strengthened their faith and set examples for others.
- Lastly, migration diminished persecution of Makkah and peace and tranquility was cultivated there.

Experience in the Cave of Saur with importance

- While migrating from Makkah to Madinah, Holy Prophet stayed in the cave of Saur five miles from Madinah for three days and three nights with Abu Bakr.

- Tears of Abu Bakr came to the countenance of the Holy Prophet which woke Prophet up.
- Holy Prophet used his saliva to cure the venom.

- It also paved the way of the rise of Islam in Madinah and later on in the entire Arabia and neighbouring states.

LIFE IN MADINAH

IMPORTANT EVENTS IN MADINAH

In Madinah the Prophet introduced the following reforms.

- (a) Fraternity between Emigrants and Helpers (Ansar).

Emigrants of Makkah had left their properties, houses and sources of income in Makkah. So they were in very miserable plight. First of all Prophet managed to improve their economic conditions. The Prophet (Peace be upon him) declared each Emigrant a partner of each Helper's property and also made them heirs of each other. This inheritance law was abrogated later on by the Holy revelation of 11th and 12th verses of Surah An-Nisa. However the Holy Prophet (Peace be upon him) treated the Emigrants generously in economic field and gradually Emigrants became self-sufficient and self-supporting.

- (b) Treaty of Madinah:

It was the basic requirement of security of the state that it should be stable internally. Internal stability requires complete peace among its citizens and unity cannot be achieved without imposing a uniform political rule. Now there were three political and religious groups in Madinah. They were (a) believers of Aus, Khazraj and Emigrants from Makkah (b) non-Muslims of Aus and Khazraj and (c) the Jews of Madinah. The Holy Prophet succeeded in giving them a unanimous constitutional formula, which was the first written constitution of the city-state. It is known as the "Treaty of Madinah" in the Muslim History and its important provisions were as follows:

Importance of Meraj

The Holy Prophet was taken out of time and space. Even when he came back, his bed was warm and bolt was moving. It was a reward of Allah to the Holy prophet as he suffered a lot in Makkah and brutally tortured in Taif but never cursed any one, though he was asked to. It showed power and authority of Allah over the entire universe as He summoned His servant physically to heaven. It was sheer miracle of Allah. It showed that Allah was so happy with the Prophet. Prayers and Fastings were made obligatory over here. The Holy Prophet met and led prayers of all previous prophets which declared Muhammad's supremacy over the entire previous prophets. This journey provided the Holy Prophet access to the secrets of Allah which Allah disclosed to him. The Holy Prophet received treasures of knowledge directly from Allah which other prophets could not even think of. Prophet was so close to Allah as he saw Him which other prophets never saw Allah like that. Quran endorsed that honour in Surah Najam Ayat no: 8 to 10.

"Then He approached and came closer, And was at a distance of bow-lengths or (Even) nearer; so did ((Allah)) convey the inspiration (to the Prophet) what He (meant) to convey."

In short, this journey motivates the Muslims to obey Allah and Muhammad and stick to prayers as Salat has been declared Meraj for believers by the Holy Prophet because Meraj is the greatest gift of Allah to the Muslims.
